“ Austin,
You made our world a better place. You were caring, appreciative, and willing to give away what you had to express the importance of the people in your life. Your battle will not be forgotten, nor will the memories you gave to me and my children. We met when you were just nine years old, and even when distanced, were always in touch!
I am eternally grateful to have known you, and appreciate everything you have taught me, as well as inspired me to pursue!
You are the motivation to continue to work in social work and help others! Peace little brother, much love!
