“ Jeanna and I first met when our sweet faced, toe-headed daughters met in Kindergarten, 2000-01. Our friendship endured being room moms, band moms, confidants, sounding boards and forever best friends. Abbie and I had the honor and privilege to be with Jeanna's Village as she crossed over to a better place. I'll miss you my friend and will keep your memory alive.

Jeanna and I first met in elementary school and rode the bus together until we started driving. We were the best of friends and together all the time. Her family was very welcoming and I grew to love them as well. After high school, Jeanna lived with me for a few years until I moved to Indianapolis for a job. Our daughters were born the same year but sadly I was never able to reconnect with her. I wish Jeanna and I would have been able to meet up at our class reunions or even Jack's funeral. I will always look fondly at the crazy adventures we had in our youth and early adulthood. My heartfelt sympathies go out to the family.

Hannah...please let me know if you would like to hear any of the stories about your mom and I. Love and prayers.
