

Brian Walker

May 11, 1964 - October 22, 2011

BRIAN J. WALKER ECONOMY: Brian Jay Walker, 47, of Indianapolis, died Saturday, October 22, 2011. He was born in New Castle on May 11, 1964, the son of Donald E. and Joenita (Rinehart) Walker. He was a long time employee of Pet Smart and had resided in Ind

Tribute Wall

DD

“ We miss you Sean. You always made our lives brighter and kept us focused on the things most important. We love you Patty. Thank you for sharing Sean with us.,

Dan Davis - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

RD

“ So sorry to hear this Patty and the rest of the family. He was such a sweet kid. I remember when he was born. Our prayers are with you and directed above also. If it's nay comfort-he's with his Daddy now and his heavenly one also. If you need anything at all-just to talk even-please don't hesitate to contact me. God Bless and keep you in his comfort.,

Ronda Davis - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

CF

“ Rest in peace little guy! Love you! My heart just keeps breaking for you Patty... Love you girl!,

Chris Farmer - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

JW

“ Patty I was so sorry to hear about Sean.It seems like yesterday he was just a little guy at Gas America.W are praying for you,

Joni Winters - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

JN

“ Ms Patty words cannot say sorry for your lost. I will always remember that smile and laugh he would give me. My thoughts are with you. Sean was a gift to the people that he was able to be around.,

Joanna Newman - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

DC

“ Wishing all my prayers to Brian's family...I'm going to miss you buddy !,

Darrin Casteel - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

TR

“ To Brian's family. My condolences for your loss. I was at the funeral unfortunately I was not able to meet everyone. Brian was a friend and coworker. He will be missed. My prayers go out to the family in thier time of grief. God bless,

Troy - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

KW

“ Just want you to know Sean, Scott, Floyd and Jane were all in my thoughts as I watched the baseball games this week. Man, would they ever have been in the middle of this run to the State Championship and beyond! And Sean has gone school with my grandson, Brad McCormack. It was sure a sad day for Hagerstown, going into the Sunday game carrying the death of Sean. I know they wanted so badly to win that game for him and Scott.,

Kennetha Watts - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

“ I truly offer my sincere condolences. Loosing someone dear to you is never easy and one may ask theirself, "even if it's for one day, could I see them again?" Well, what do you think? Can you see them again? Some actually say yes;since, at Acts 24:15 of the Bible reads,"There is going to be a resurrection." What that can mean for you is peace of mind. 2Corinthians 1:3,4 shows how one can gain comfort when someone dear to you passes away. Hebrews 2:15 helps release one from any morbid fear of death. Also, John 5:28,29 offers a real hope of being reunited with your loved one(s) again. As comforting as these scriptures are, you may think can we really believe what the Bible says? The answer is yes, for at least three reasons and if you can, please look up the scriptures in your own Bible too, (if you don't have a Bible you can download the whole Bible for free at www.JW.org and please feel free to download, read articles, watch videos, hear music, and be invited to events that will also be encouraging for you and/or the family and friends, for these are for people of all ages) The three reasons are these: God is the Creator of life. The Bible calls God "the source of life."(Psalm 36:9; Acts 17:24,25) The One who gave life to all living creatures is certainly capable of restoring life to someone who has passed away. Plus, God has resurrected humans in the ancient past. The Bible reports eight instances of humans-young, old, male, and female-who were brought back to life on earth. Some had been dead for a short while, but one had been dead for four days-John 11:39-44. Also, God is truly eager to do that again. Just think God is eager to raise your loved one up again and reunite them with you. God very much hates death; he views it as an enemy. (1 Corinthians 15:26) He has "a yearning" to conquer that enemy, to undo death by means of the resurrection. He longs to bring back those who are in his memory - Job 14:14,15. I hope this offers at least some relief and comfort for you and those whom grieve with you too. May your days be happy, full of purpose, and full of hope as you wait, because as the Bible shows, you can be reunited with your loved one(s) again. If you have any questions or would like any support please go to the www.JW.org website for it has great and valuable information, even activities for you and/or the family. With Deep

Sympathy, Ciarra,

Ciarra - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

J(

“ My deepest condolences to Brian's family and friends. I got to know Brian as a customer at PetSmart, and over the years we became friends. Unfortunately, I didn't find out about his passing in time to come to his funeral. Had I known what had happened, I would have been there. Brian was a genuinely nice person, kind-hearted, friendly and caring. I will miss our conversations and our friendship very much. My thoughts and prayers are with you.,

Jan Lockett (Indianapolis/Connersville) - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

TL

“ I offer my condolences to Brian's family, I am so sorry for your loss. Brian was an important part of my high school years, and was good friend throughout those years. Brian shared a lunch room table me, Darrin, Sheri, Becki and whoever else decided to join us. I remember many times having to leave class with him and walk to his locker to retrieve a can of orange juice because he felt his blood sugar dropping. Although like most high school friends we didn't keep in touch after graduation, many times over the years he and the rest of the "gang" has crossed my mind with good memories. Brian, I am sure you will be missed, but never forgotten.,

Tammy Lowe - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

BB

“ I miss you Mate....,

Ben BJ - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

PL

“ I miss you Baby, so very much.,

Patty Lacy - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM

JS

“ I had the privilege of meeting Brian several times at his parents home. He was a very sweet individual. My condolences go out to Joenita and his siblings. You all are in my thoughts during this time. I know he will be missed not only by his family but by those who knew him well.,

Judy Scott - April 14, 2015 at 12:00 AM